

PMSS have been offering cost effective solutions to the NHS for over 30 years.

So much more than just a label company

PMSS have offered quality product solutions to the NHS for over 30 years.

We manufacture custom tags that offer an instant visual indication that a piece of equipment has been quality controlled. This procedure could indicate that equipment has been or needs to be cleaned repaired or calibrated.

Made from a range of materials to suit the application, the tags can be printed front and back and include punched holes and tie strings for attaching to the equipment.

Tags are an ideal solution for marking equipment after being cleaned. Controlling infection has never been a higher priority. The adhesive free tags reduce the risk of secondary contamination caused by adhesive residue that occurs when using traditional adhesive labels.

The tag can be made to your own specification in order to meet your needs both speedily and at a competitive price.
